

Freelance Social Media Manager (f/m) – Dutch Speaker

15–20 hours a month from August 1st, 2018

Do you...

- Speak and write Dutch perfectly? (Native preferred)
- Love creative writing and social media?
- Love traveling and the travel industry?
- Like to be your own boss, willing to work on weekends if need be?

Then you sound great!

At weekenGO, you'll become part of a young, ambitious team of travel nerds, creative souls, and adventure seekers. If you're reliable, flexible, open-minded, and know your way with words, you might be just our guy/gal!

Who we are:

weekenGO is the first international App exclusively focused on weekend getaways. Thanks to our smart search algorithm and an innovative user interface, our users easily find the perfect offer out of over 20 million flights, 1 million hotels, and 450 travel destinations. Within the first few months of operation, our App has been downloaded over 300,000 times in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Great Britain, the Netherlands, and the US.

Your tasks & responsibilities:

- Monitoring, managing, and updating the “weekenGO Netherlands” Facebook account
- Creating content for posts, responding to comments, and engaging with the community
- Responding to users’ feedback (via email, in the App Store, etc.)
- Upon consultation: Copywriting of short texts for different travel destinations in Dutch
- Short translations if needed

Your opportunities:

- Working from home, or wherever else you just happen to be
- Nice perks of working in the travel industry
- Startup culture with room for your own ideas and visions
- Chance to see a business grow, and growing right with us
- Agile structures within a young, professional, and international team
- Regular social events

If this basically screams your name, then we would love to hear from you. Please feel invited to send your CV to jobs@weekengo.com
